

October 2019

Dear Colleagues,

As Chair of the Department of Psychology at John Carroll University, I writing with a reminder that membership dues for the 34th Annual Ohio Undergraduate Psychology Research Conference (OUPRC) are due for the 2019 – 2020 academic year. If you have not paid dues for the current year, or have not traditionally been a member of the consortium, we ask that you consider participating this year.

The OUPRC has traditionally provided students who are interested in graduate level study, or who are interested in careers in research settings, with the opportunity to present their work to a supportive and constructively critical group of faculty and students. The conference has been a “safe haven” for scholars-in-training to share their research. Students who are presenting their work at other conferences, for example, the annual meeting of the Midwestern Psychological Association (MPA), often attend OUPRC in order to receive constructive feedback on the research projects prior to presenting at MPA. Regardless, OUPRC is a great experience for students in itself.

This academic year’s MPA is April 23-25, 2020 in Chicago. The judged student poster session at the Ohio Psychological Association conference is Friday, April 26th in Columbus. Easter falls on April 12 and Passover will be from April 8-16. Therefore, the 34th annual OUPRC will be co-hosted by Cleveland State University and Lorain Community College on Saturday, April 4th. Dr. Paul Thibodeau, Associate Professor of Psychology at Oberlin College will be the keynote speaker. Mr. Jim Jordan will be the site contact person.
